The Musical Element Is Great.

The sights and sounds of a school are what the students and faculty make them. Whether it's a laugh from a pretty face, students collaborating in the senior lounge, or a teacher inspiring a student, you can put all these things together and create a musical extravaganza.

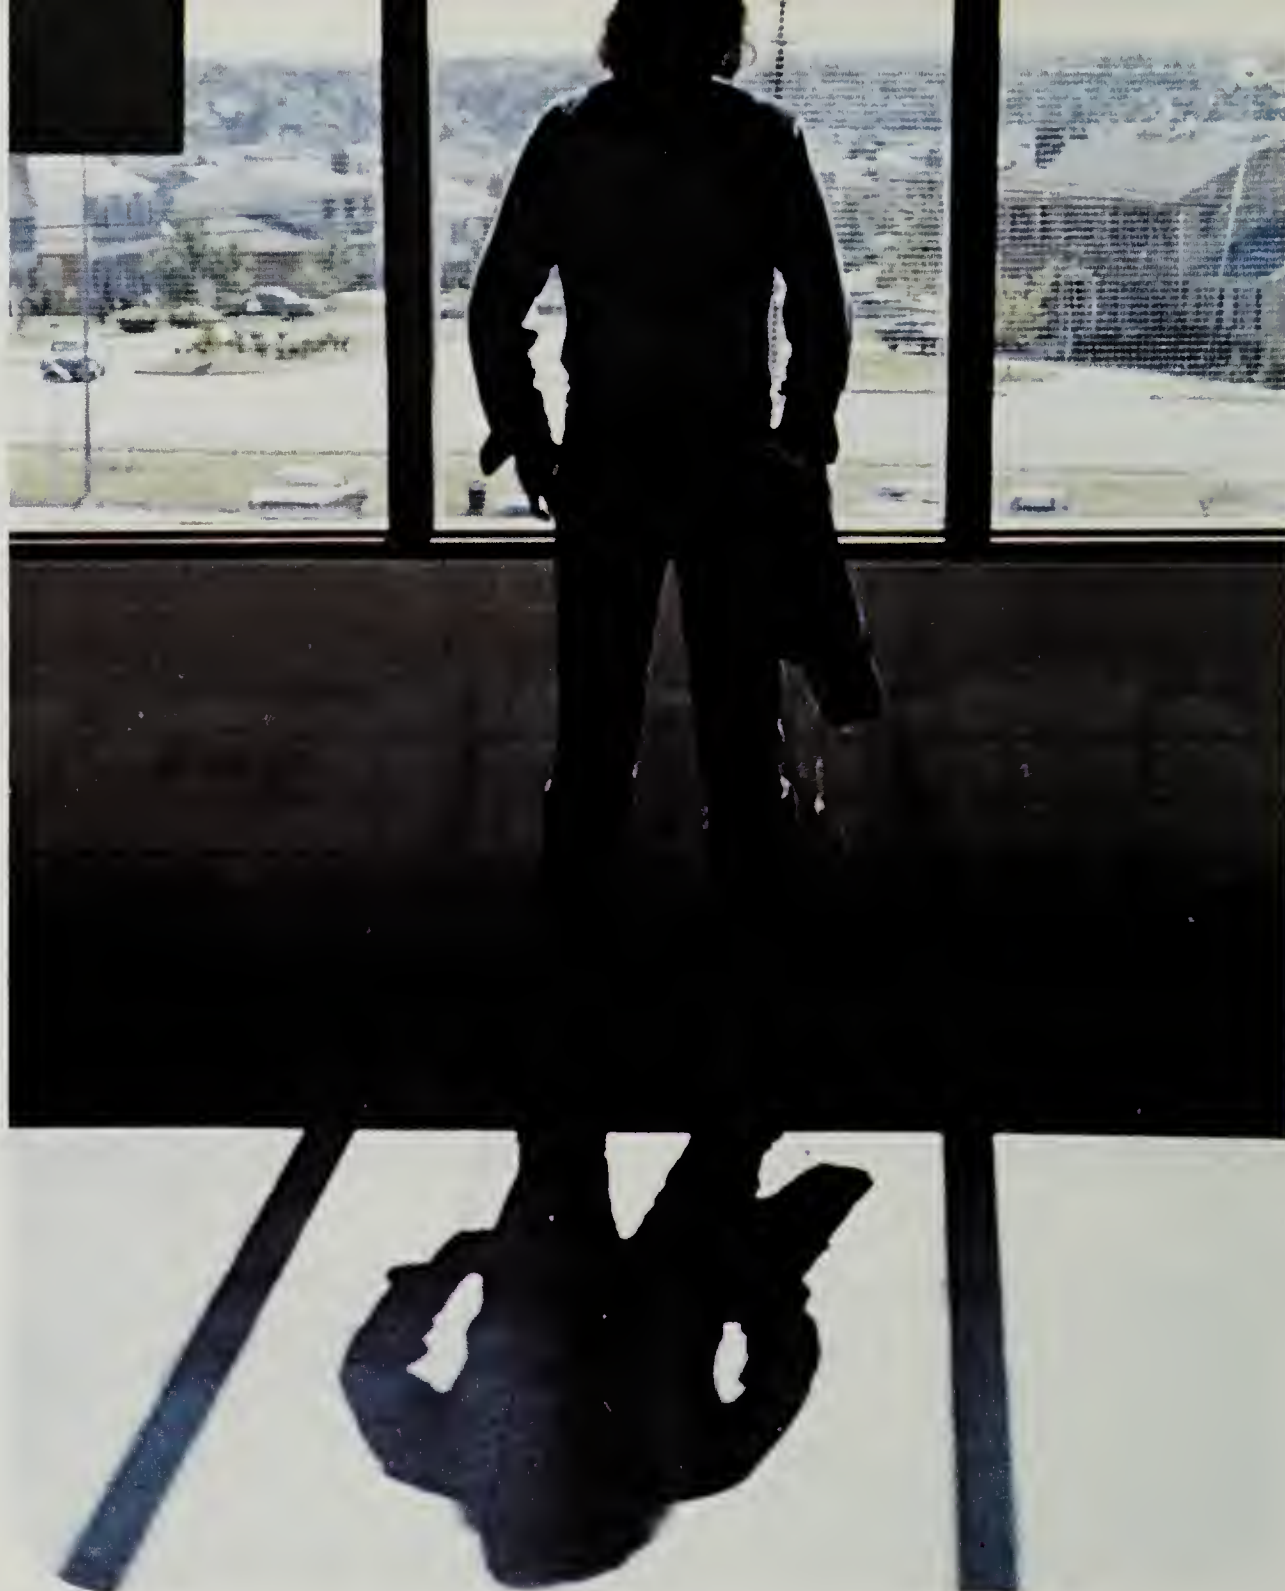

*Torrice Is In,
The Flowers Too.*

The beauty of Hayfield surrounds us but sometimes the sounds escape us. Think of a school without sounds; without sights. Makes a pretty dull picture! Look at these pictures to see the color at Hayfield.

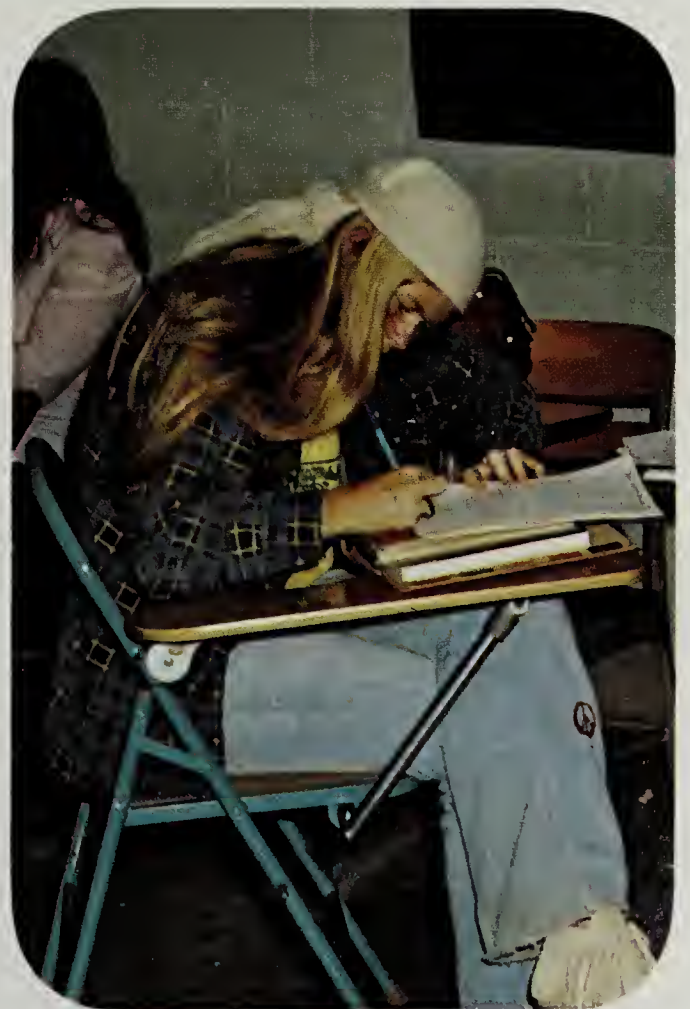

Individuality is a sight to behold, and the sounds of togetherness make the school a better learning experience. Students working alone, or in groups. All this and more make Hayfield a little more exciting.

*Individuality And Togetherness Go
Hand In Hand With Today.*

Express Yourself!

Sights and sounds come in infinite forms. Sounds can be two students discussing lab problems or a student modeling in art. Then there are the sights of good food before hungry students, or young men and women taking a look at our world. What else is school for?

We All Must Communicate

In order for a school to function, there must be communication. You can see students and faculty working and talking together. Sometimes eyes can speak a language of their own. Even pencils have a fluent tongue.

Students Make Advances In The Kitchen.

Baking is fun. The delicious smells; the happy sounds. Each is a brick to be added to the foundation of a better life. Our students are prepared for tomorrow. After all, experience is the best teacher.

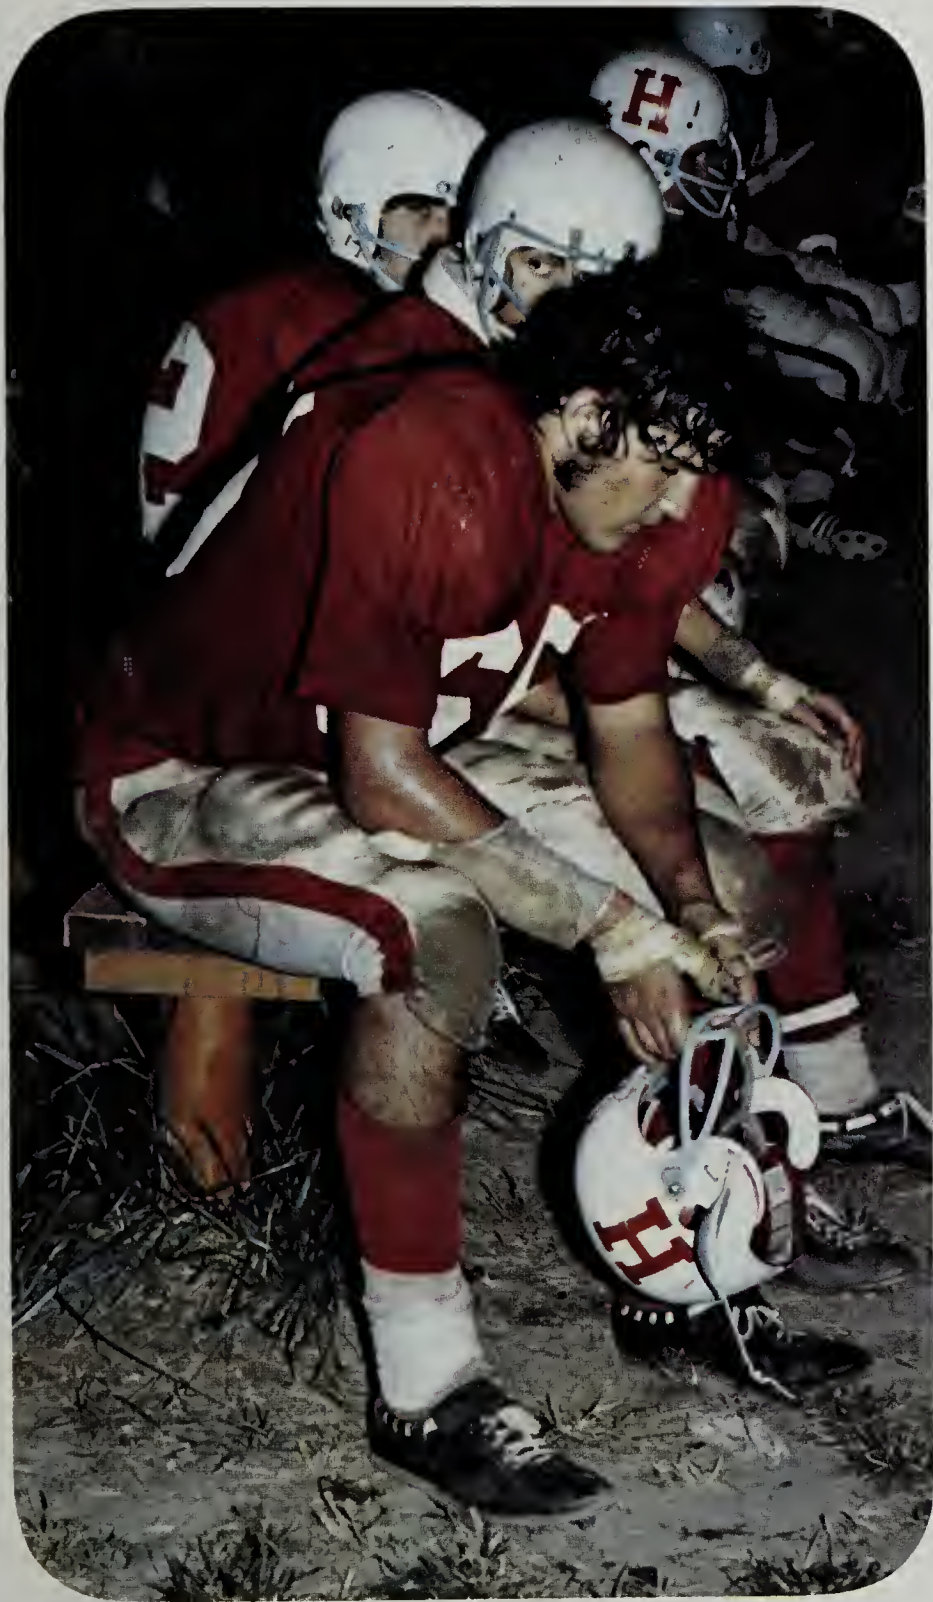

The sounds of spirit are matched only by the sights of pageantry. On game nights, Hayfield is a world of bright colors and happy, excited sounds. A show of interests in a school by its students is a credit to that school.

Sports in Hayfield Have Many Facets

Everyone strums to his or her own music; his or her own life. You can see it in daily life patterns. All students are but notes on the record, looking for a higher place in life; a higher rank on the chart rating.

The World We Lived in While at Hayfield . . .

This special section is a salute to the class of '74. These seniors are the first to go all the way through six years education at Hayfield. Here is a look at those "Golden Years."

"OUR WAR" was Vietnam, however, few of us are aware that the people of Vietnam had been at war for over 25 years.

Vietnam became the subject of much painful soul searching throughout this nation. While the controversy boiled all over the world, men fought and died in the rice paddies, jungle thickets, and steep mountains.

In Paris, far from the battlefield, representatives of the combatants sat through endless sessions seeking a peace agreement. Bombing was halted and then expanded; it even included Cambodia. Cease fires agreements were signed and broken. Attempts of peace seemed futile but at last Dr. Henry Kissinger, our representative to Paris Peace Talks, announced at the beginning of 1973 that peace was attained and our troops were withdrawn.

Dr. Kissinger became Secretary of State and winner of the Nobel Peace Prize.

FOUR STUDENTS WERE KILLED at Kent State University in Ohio on May 4, 1970, as National Guard men fired their rifles into a group of anti-war demonstrators. Violence flared at several other universities as students protested the U.S. military move into Cambodia.

THE VOTING AGE was lowered to 18 when President Nixon signed a bill on June 22, 1970. On December 21, 1970, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that 18 year old Americans have the right to vote in federal elections.

AMTRACK a quasigovernmental corporation, inaugurates a new passenger rail service linking about 300 cities.

U.S. TROOPS were replaced by South Korean troops along the 151-mile armistice border with North Korea for the first time since the Korean War. The U.S. troops entered the war in Korea during June of 1950.

THE WORD "ECOLOGY" came into everyday usage as naturalists, and many other men of the various sciences, became successful in making humanity aware of the dreadful course it was following towards its own extinction by pollution of the air and water about us: by promiscuous use of insecticides and other poisonous chemicals; and by the extravagant and destructive use of our natural resources.

The year 1970 was tagged "Year of the Environment" and April 22 was designated as "Earth Day." Laws began to be passed to protect our environment, not only from industrial abuse, but private abuse as well. Even the U.S. Wildlife reporters gave the nation shocking reports on the extinction of many species.

An "animal graveyard" was featured during Earth Week at the Bronx Zoo. Each of the tombstones were marked to represent an animal that had become extinct.

In 1974, 140 nations of the world, for the first time acted together and formed a United Nations Environment Program (UNEP) with a determined effort to stave off ecological disaster. It opened its headquarters in Nairobi, Kenya with a staff of 300.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT reached its peak of momentum during the sixties, however, certain aspects of human rights became major controversial issues in many states across the country. Foremost was the bussing of students to attain racial balances in our public schools. This issue had little if any effect on our student life at Hayfield, possibly because the school had been integrated from the start.

A part of the Civil Rights issue given little publicity, was the protection of women from discrimination due to sex. This action became known as the Womens' Liberation Movement and its most active leaders seized upon the 50th Anniversary of the Womens' Suffrage League in 1970, as a time publicize what little progress women had in Civil Rights.

THE UNITED NATIONS general assembly by a 76 to 35 vote on October 25, 1971, admitted the People's Republic of China as a member and expelled the Chinese Nationalists government of Formosa.

HARRY S. TRUMAN, 33rd President of the United States died on December 26, 1972 after being hospitalized since December 5th for pulmonary congestion. He was sworn into office on April 12, 1945 after the death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. At the time Truman became President, allied armies were winning the war in Germany and preparing to invade Japan. Germany surrendered on May 7, 1945 and Japan surrendered on August 14th. President Truman was reelected in 1948 in what was termed as a great political upset.

SPACE TRAVEL was still the big news of our life as we entered Hayfield School in 1970. Apollo 13 was launched April 13, 1970. When an oxygen tank exploded while in the third day in space, the astronauts cancelled the planned moon landing, swung around the moon, and coasted back to earth. The Apollo Program ended with Apollo 17. The progress and feats continued with each trip.

Apollo 14, launched January 31, 1971, was targeted for the same area that Apollo 13 had planned to land. It landed successfully on February 5.

Apollo 15 was the first of a final group of three flights to use the battery powered electric auto to increase the time and extent of lunar exploration. They covered a total of 17.4 miles during July 30, 31 and August 1, 1971.

Apollo 16 crew carried out a successful exploration by traveling over 17 miles of the moon's surface during April 1972 and brought back a record 210 pounds of rock and soil.

Apollo 17 astronauts traveled over 23 miles of the moon's surface in their Luna Rover.

Skylab replaced the Apollo Program and NASA announced that there would be three Skylab missions over an eight-month period. The crew of Skylab I set a new record in space 28 days.

Skylab III, the final of the series, was launched on November 10, 1973 and returned February 8, 1974 with an all time record of over 84 days in space. The astronauts broke another record on Christmas Day when they took a 7-hour space walk. They returned with an abundance of film containing scientific data of the earth, sun, and the comet Kohoutek that was discovered early in 1973 by the Russian for whom it was named.

CANCER research institutes around the world produced preponderant evidence that lung cancer was more prevalent among tobacco smokers than among non-smokers. Under pressure from the Federal Communications Commission the tobacco industry agreed to discontinue radio and television advertizing by September, 1970. During this same time, cigarette manufacturers were required to print on the label of each package, "Warning the Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking is Dangerous to Your Health." This warning was also required in all printed advertisements of cigarettes.

DRUG ABUSE is one of the serious problems of our time and the legislation that was passed affected us. Illegal possession of drugs is a misdemeanor punishable by a $1,000 fine or up to one year imprisonment, or both, for the first offense; and a $10,000 fine or up to three years imprisonment, or both, for any subsequent offense. Thus, the teenager or college student, who took a brief fling with pot invited not only undesirable side effects, but also, legal dangers and the stigma of carrying a criminal record that held vast implications in his future. In most areas of the U.S., it became difficult—if not impossible—for a young person with a narcotics conviction to enter such professions as teaching and law, and usually as difficult to gain employment in some industries.

Addictive drugs are concern world wide as well as to us. The U.S. Narcotics Bureau estimate that half-million addicts in the U.S. use from 6 to 10 tons of heroin a year. Fifty-seven countries grow and produce heroin and valiant efforts to curb imports have been made.

In 1974 there were more than a half-million Americans who drank to excess, making alcoholism the nations number one drug problem. The number of problem drinkers, was 36 times greater than the number addicted to hard drugs.

ENERGY CRISIS was a phrase that became a reality in 1973. The whole problem centered around the availability of crude oil from which propane, gasoline, and many other fuels and chemicals are derived.

As fuel needs for industry, home, and transportation increased at an accelerating rate, the output of most oil producing areas failed to keep pace with the demand. Although geologists say this crisis was long on its way, most of us will remember it as coming suddenly. Both Federal and State laws were enacted to cope with the many problems and cutbacks were instituted for home, industry, and business: gas stations were ordered closed on Sundays; airline flights were cut; speed limits were reduced across the nation; big neon advertising signs were turned off. The Federal Energy Administration was created. It became a global problem and some European countries banned Sunday auto driving. Prices for gasoline, heating oil, and residual oil skyrocketed.

Egypt, Saudi Arabia, and other Persian Gulf producers imposed an embargo October 17, 1973 on all exports of oil. They aimed specifically to hurt nations that were helping the Israelis in their war with the Arabs. The energy pinch hurt all industrialized nations of Europe, as well as other energy consuming countries around the world.

At the start of the year Great Britain went on a 3 day work week to conserve energy and President Nixon proclaimed a year-round Daylight Savings Time.

Many people believed that the energy crisis wasn't real, but manipulated by the big oil companies who have world wide investments, so in January 1974, four congressional committees opened hearings to have the $100 billion oil industry prove that the energy crisis was real.

Meanwhile, scientists and engineers turned their attention to other sources of energy that previously could not compete with the low cost of gasoline and fuel oils. An experimental solar heating system was installed at a high school in Warrenton.

TRANSPO '72, the world's first international transportation exposition was held at Dulles International Airport in May and June of 1972.

LYNDON B. JOHNSON, 36th President of the United States died of a heart attack on January 22, 1973. He became President when John F. Kennedy was assassinated and won a full term on his own by a landslide. During his term of office he was plagued with pressures to get us out of Vietnam. Peace demonstrations were a common occurrence in Washington as the President searched in vain for an honorable way to end the war. The day after he died, the Vietnam cease-fire agreement was announced.

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION year of 1972 enabled us, during our junior year, to observe the process used by our country in selecting its president and vice president. Shirley Chisholm of Brooklyn, New York, became the nation's first Black woman representative to seek the presidential nomination. George Wallace, governor of Alabama, also seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, was shot in May, 1972 at near-by Laurel, Maryland during a campaign speech. The attack left him paralyzed from the waist down.

In July 1972 the Democratic Convention held in Miami Beach, Florida, nominated George McGovern and Sargent Shriver to be their candidates for President and Vice President respectively, and in August, 1972, the Republican Party nominated Richard Nixon and Spiro Agnew as their candidates for President and Vice President respectively.

The political campaign developed into a series of controversies but Republican nominee, Richard Nixon won his reelection with a landslide victory over Democrat George S. McGovern.

THE POPULATION INCREASE became a great concern because our ability to cope with resulting problems failed to keep pace. The national increase from 1970 through 1973 was estimated by the U.S. Census Bureau at 3.3%. During this same time the state of Virginia's population increased 3.5%, and it is believed that the percentage of increase in Fairfax County was higher than most other counties in the state.

We saw farms, forests, and open land bulldozed for the development of suburban housing, shopping centers, offices, and industrial complexes. Many citizens and public officials are questioning the traditional American assumption that bigger is always better.

The percentage of people living in apartments, high-rises, and condominiums increased at a greater rate than those living in private homes, which is a sharp contrast in life style that America has known.

MARK SPITS AND BOBBY FISCHER were the top two champions in the year 1972, Mark Spitz won 7 gold medals in the Olympics, more than anyone had ever won in a single Olympics. Bobby Fischer became the first American to win the world chess championship by demolishing Boris Spassky from Russia.

VICE PRESIDENT SPIRO AGNEW, who seemed untarnished as Watergate touched member after member of the President's official family, had his own "skeleton in the closet." Federal prosecutors portrayed him as a politician who had cooperated with and encouraged a tradition of illegal shakedowns and bribes from Maryland contractors.

Agnew resigned and was fined $10,000 and placed on a three year probation. Early in 1974 he was barred from the practice of law in his home state of Maryland. The vacancy was filled by Representative Gerald Ford, leader of House Minority, who was selected by President Nixon and the appointment confirmed by Congress.

WATERGATE was a popular name of a scandal that became public June 17, 1973 when five men with eavesdropping equipment were caught breaking into Democratic National Headquarters. The break-in allegedly was led by a Miami real estate dealer and a former Central Intelligence Agency operative.

The Watergate hearings dominated the news in 1973 and probably reached its peak of interest in the fall of the year when the Senate Watergate Committee televised its proceedings for the public.

The scandals cost the Administration two Attorney Generals, an acting director of the FBI, a Deputy Attorney General, a special Watergate prosecutor, and a full measure of Presidential aides and lesser figures.

By the start of the year 1974, many legislators and Justice Department officials were seriously considering impeachment of President Nixon for his alleged part in the offense, his part in the cover-up, or his withholding of evidence in the Watergate Affair.

METRO, the Washington area subway, and the dream of the people of this area since the turn of the century, began to show signs of reality in the '70's. Northern Virginia Transportation Day on June 17, 1971 marks ground-breaking for the first Virginia subway station at Rosslyn. The first Virginia land acquisitions occurred on September 12, 1970—about a half-acre lot at Huntington Station location.

Metro, as we have come to know it, is legally designated as Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority. It is an interstate compact authorized to plan, build, and operate the regional rapid rail system in Maryland, Virginia, and the District of Columbia.

The initial operation of the Metro was planned for 1974, however, completion would be in 1979.

When completed it would consist of about one hundred total miles of rail service; one third in Virginia, one third in Maryland, and one third in D.C. Of this total mileage half would be subway and half surface.

THE HIJACKING OF AIRPLANES to Cuba became a source of public alarm. Incidents of this new form of crime were on the increase and at the time we entered high school a new word was coined to define this offense—skyjacking.

Although domestic skyjacking declined in 1970, skyjacking of international flights increased sharply. The U.S. Department of Transportation set up a permanent federal sky marshal force for deployment on domestic and international flights.

THE ECONOMY went out of control in 1969 and we entered 1970 with living cost being almost 6% more than one year previously.

Imports exceeded exports for the full calendar year for the first time in the 1900's. This prompted President Nixon to impose a 10% surcharge on most imports.

1971 will bear the distinction as the year in which, for the first time during peace, the United States moved to price and wage controls.

THE DRESS STYLES during the early 70's were quite varied. Long hair was the vogue for both boys and girls. Some boys, who were capable, grew beards and mustaches.

The girls wore skirts that varied from maxi, midi and mini length. Baggy, cuffed, and bell bottom pants were also in style at this time.

The boys went from snug fitting pants to the baggy type. He wore turtle neck sweaters, and when he wanted to be a little more formal he would wear a jacket. He could wear the full range of color designs in any of his clothing.

Some girls or boys who preferred the more casual or comfortable look wore jeans and tennis shoes.

Halter tops became the summer style for the girls.

PRINCIPALS—As we entered school in September of 1973, we found waiting for us our new principal, Mrs. Doris Torrice. Mrs. Torrice took over the duties of principal from Mr. Floyd Worley. Mr. Worley is now on the committee for year-round school, with an office at Lake Braddock. Mrs. Torrice comes to us from Groveton High School, where she also served as principal.

GRADUATION—Ever comes the day that you reach out with your hands to touch the fruits of knowledge. Imagine life as the stairway of that knowledge and with every twist and every turn, you meet a new challenge, the challenge to face yourself, achieve your goals and build your future. Graduation is pride, and accomplishment deserving of recognition. It is to seek the taste of a new generation and another life. Happiness is graduation, a struggle finally ended, a sigh of contentment, but also a tear.

Ricardo,

Believe it or not,
I'm going to miss
all your teasing next year. Good luck in all you do.

Luv,

1973 Prom Turns Out Successfully

... she walks in beauty like the night ...

smile ... and say SEX !!!!!!!

The 1973 Junior-Senior Prom, sponsored By Mrs. Beverly Lusk, had a successful turn out. The class of 1974 worked throughout the year to create the theme, "Days of Wine and Roses." The evening lit up when Margaret Keck escorted by Pete Shively was chosen queen. To add to the excitement of the evening Redemption played a variety of songs to suit the taste of everyone present.

Redemption entertains adequately.

Check the fine print??

Did you hear what I did?

But what can I say?

Student life at Hayfield isn't hard to find. The students always seem to find their favorite diversions; having rap sessions, studying hard to keep up their grades, and making the honor roll, or just sitting back and taking it easy. But the most accomplished goal is to enjoy making new friends and hoping for a good year.

It's not working!

You've got to be kidding.

Washington Hall

Mr. Leonard Evans, counselor

Mrs. Helen Huggins, counselor

Mr. Charles McCormick, principal

This year Washington Hall expressed its spirit by donating portable bleachers to the band for their use during the football season. They also supplied some rather unusual contributions to the Sights and Sounds of Hayfield. These sights not only gave an impression of happiness, but of ease.

The Science Department has been selling ice cream after school every day in both the intermediate and high schools in order to raise money to improve our court yards. We hope to add a greenhouse, a pond, a weather station and a variety of botanical specimens known both for their beauty and educational value.

The intermediate school's 9 week elective system got into full swing this year with the additional units. This program is unique to Hayfield within Fairfax County, and both teachers and students give it high marks.

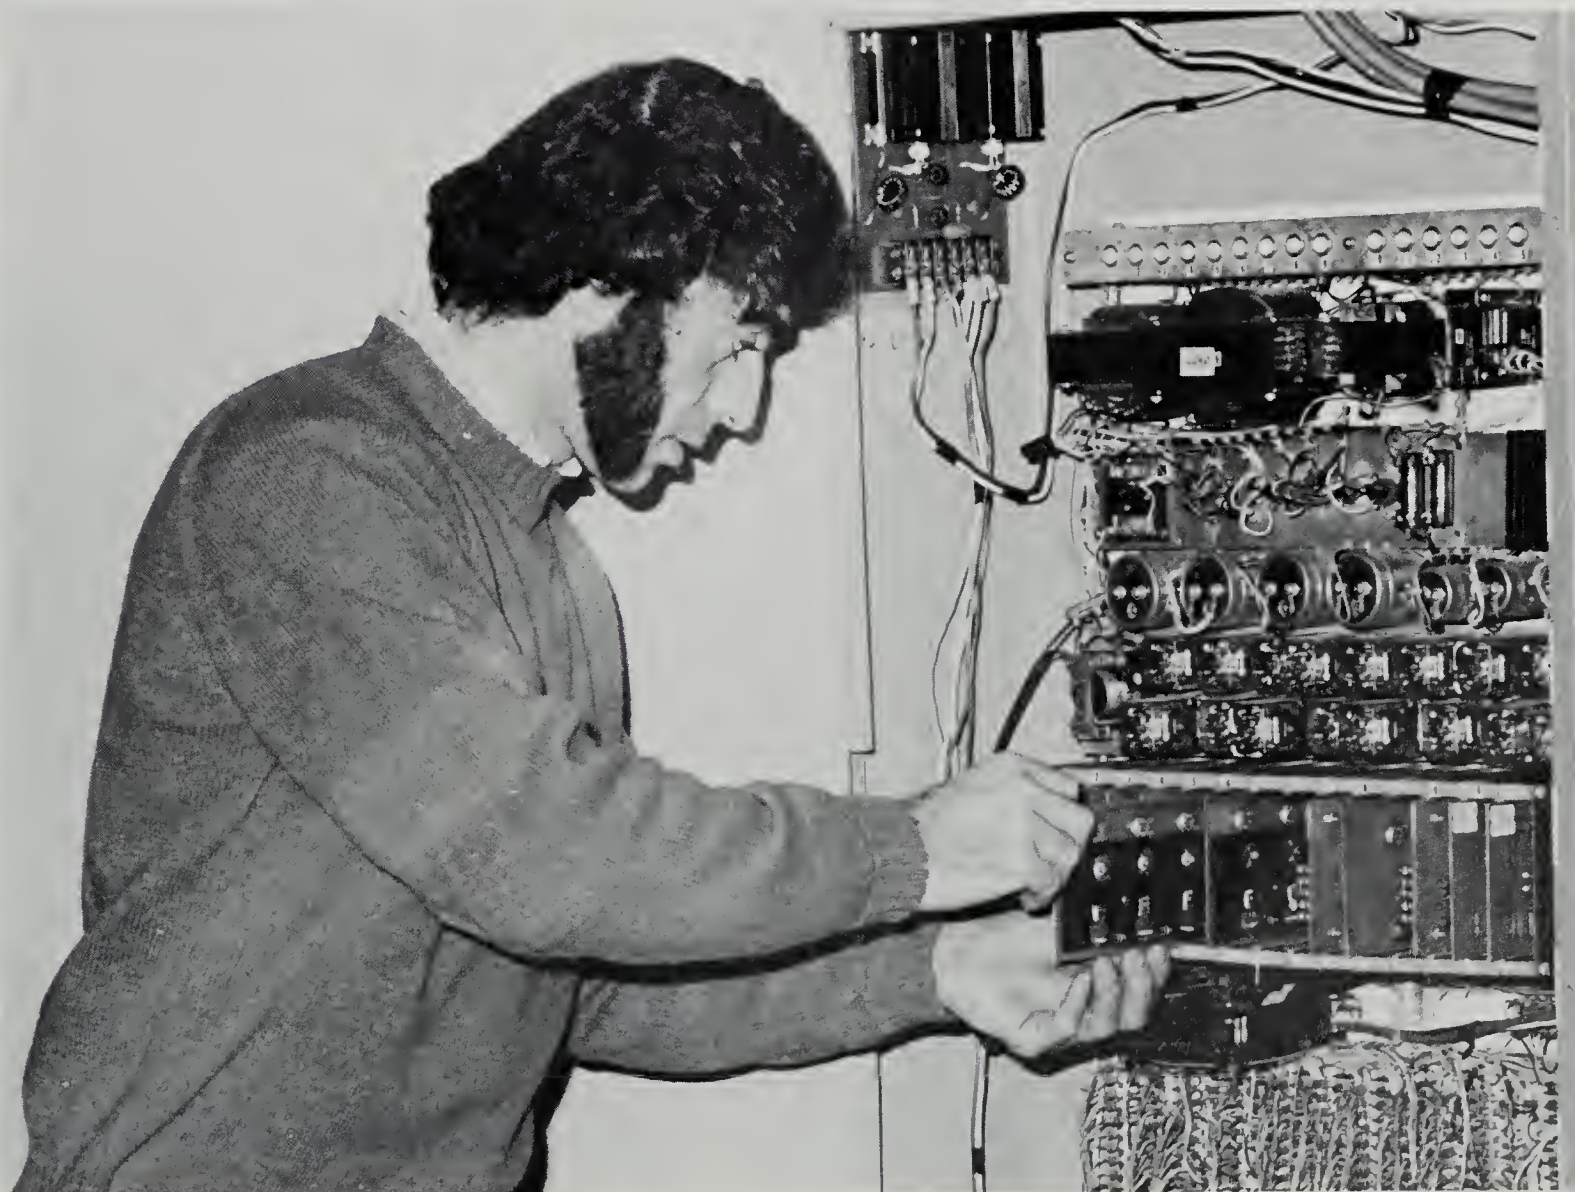

The high school science teachers are planning to add additional Chemistry I and Chemistry II courses next year. In addition to these they will also add an ecology course and Harvard project physics. This will provide the students with a greater variety of courses.

The Social Studies Department

Social Studies at Hayfield Secondary is taught by grade level and is required for grades 7,9,11, and 12. Year-long electives may be taken by 8th and 10th grade students.

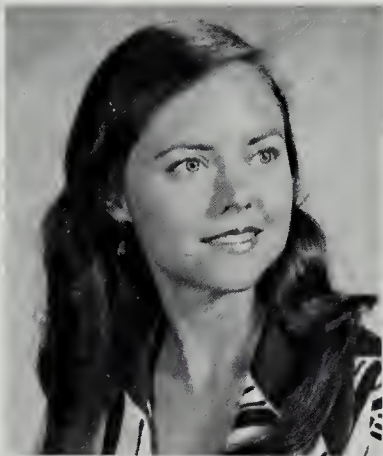

In the 7th grade, students are introduced to American Society (1860 to the present) thematically through team-teaching.

The 8th grade elective program is entitled Inquiry Into Man, Society and the Individual. This is a thematic-inter-discipline approach utilizing anthropology, economics, civics, history and sociology.

In the 9th grade, students choose between World History and World Geography. Both are taught thematically and emphasize skills development.

Juniors are required to study U.S. and Virginia History while Seniors are required to study U.S. and Virginia Government. Both subjects are taught in a variety of ways using concepts and themes as frameworks for units dealing with specific aspects of each discipline. Emphasis is placed on skills development.

High school students who wish to take additional courses may choose from one-semester electives which include Economics, European History, Sociology and Psychology.

filmstrips in the classroom for instructional purposes.

The seventh graders have been given a new program for foreign languages. The course offered is an elective for 18 weeks including three weeks each of French, German and Spanish followed by nine weeks of Art and Music.

As in the past, Hayfield's Physical Education Department has again this year had co-educational classes and let boys and girls share in elective activities such as volleyball, gymnastics, archery and others. This type of elective system and co-ed classes have shown favorable results in P.E.

The Media Center has expanded its services this year to include more student involvement. For example, there is now a production room where students may make audio-visual aids as class projects. Also, the Media Center has taken over the responsibility for the closed circuit television system in the school so that there can be more student productions broadcasted.

The Reading Department

The Reading Program at Hayfield Secondary is both developmental and remedial. Individualized programs are planned for each student during student-teacher conferences where goals and work plans are outlined together.

There are six reading classes being taught five periods of the day with approximately 20-25 students in each class. Ten of these classes are located in the intermediate school and twenty are in the high school. There is also a well-equipped Reading Lab located in the Media Center for specialized work. This includes a "United Nations" class for non-English speaking students.

In addition to a reading staff of three teachers, a team of students from the Psychology and Sociology classes work on a one-to-one basis with their peers in the remedial reading classes.

A staff of volunteer parent-aides assist with the clerical work necessary in operating an individualized reading program.

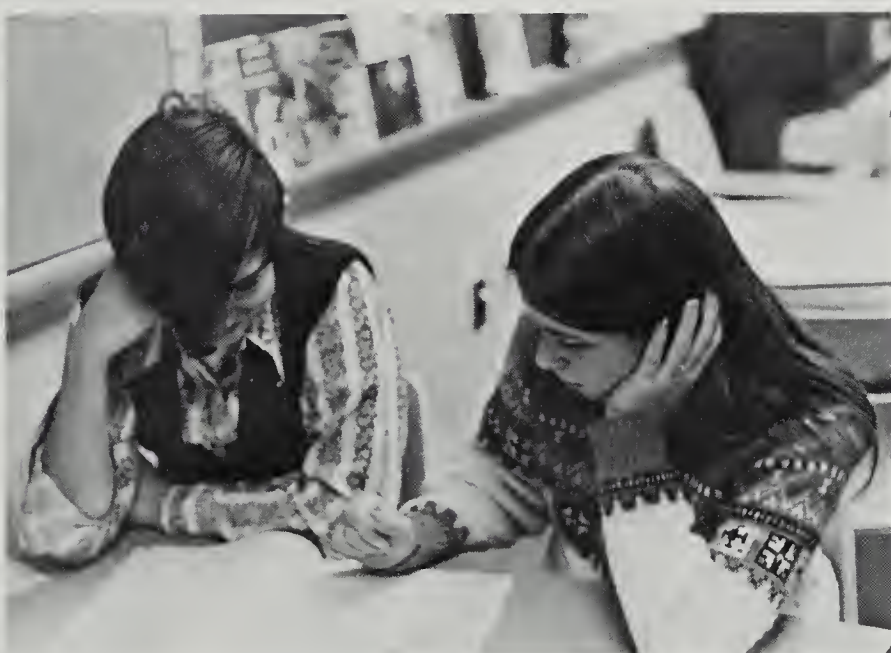

The aim of the reading program is to provide every Hayfield student the opportunity to increase his reading proficiency to his maximum level. Participation in the program is by student choice and the program serves approximately 3,000 students a year.

The Industrial Arts And Vocational Department

The Industrial Arts and Vocational Department offers a wide variety of opportunities to learn trades, technical skills and industrial processes to those students who want them, need them and will profit by them. Course offerings include Automotive Mechanics, Electronics, Maintenance and Repair, Mechanical Drawing and General Industrial Arts (with emphasis on wood, plastics, metals, ceramics and electricity). All offerings are on the elective basis.

Miss L. Johnson
Mr. B. Kidd
Mr. D. Moore

The Fine Arts Department enables students to pursue and develop special talents in the arts on the high school level. The department has developed an effective program to stimulate the students capacity to produce creatively. This spring, the Fine Arts Department will stage the MADD Festival including the creativity and the talent developed in the different areas of the arts throughout the school year.

ADP

Mrs. B. Scott
Mrs. S. Turner

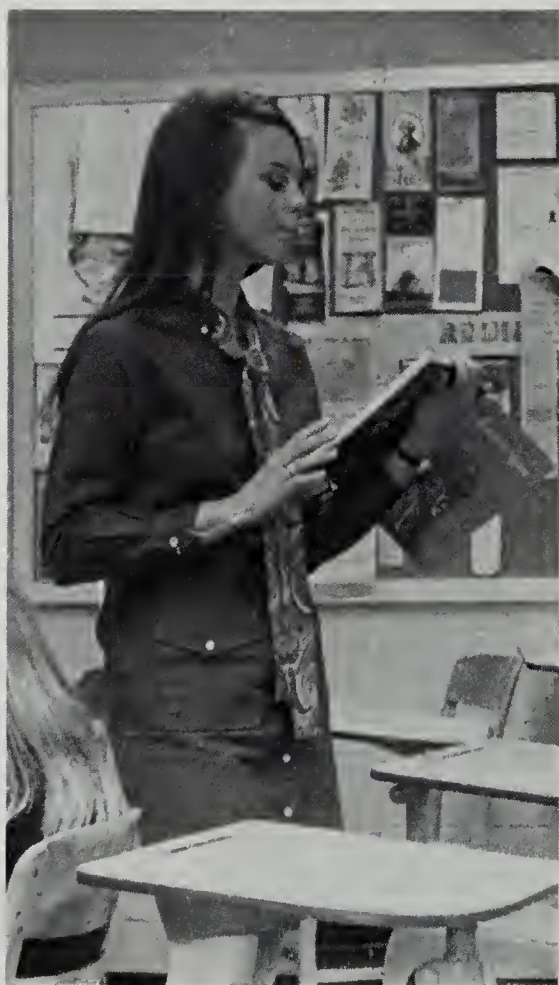

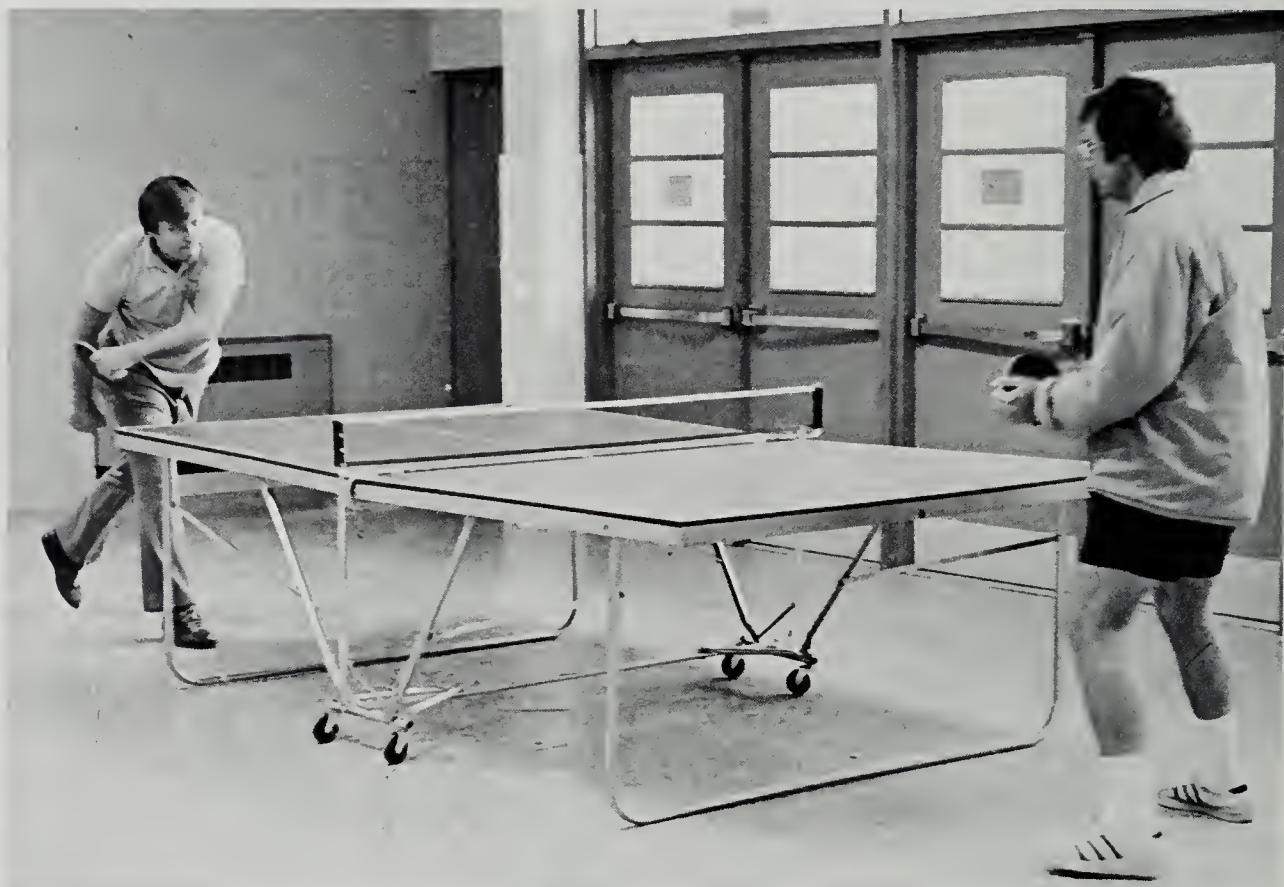

Automatic Data Processing is one of the service areas within Hayfield Secondary. The two Data Processing Operators are charged with the responsibility of pupil accounting, report cards and statistical reports both for Fairfax County and within the school. In addition all entering students are placed in grade level home-rooms and are issued student numbers by the ADP operators.

Many times students have the opinion that there are only machines talking to other machines in the ADP room. This is not the case. A pleasant and interesting voice is always on the other end of the phone and a warm reception awaits anyone who visits Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Turner in the ADP room with a question or a problem to be solved.

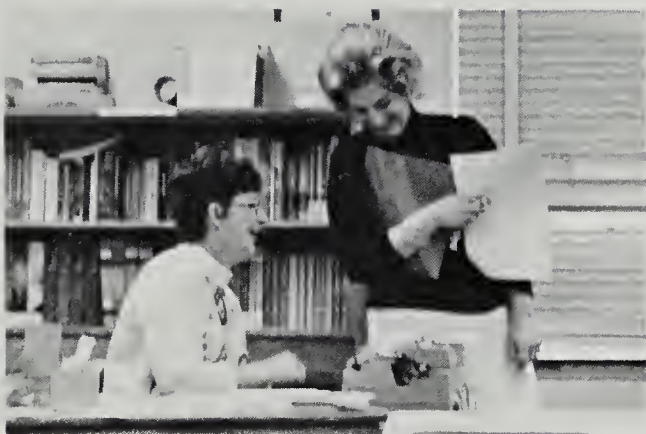

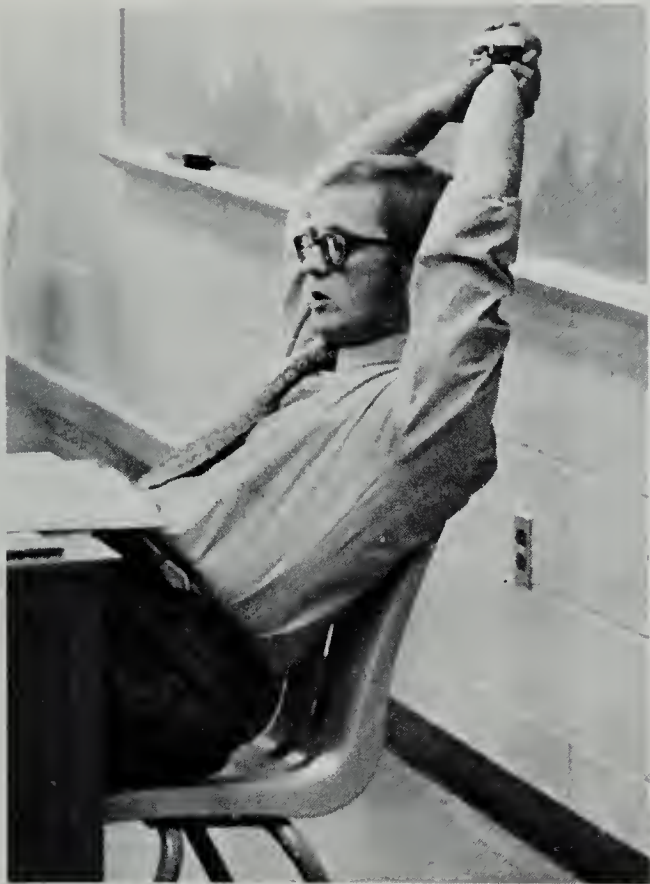

A student works at filing away IBM cards for ADP.

It seems like only yesterday,
That this year had begun.
And some of us were quick to say,
Well, that ends all the fun.

Starting in your freshman year,
Just out of junior high.
You face the high school with great fear,
But never knowing why.

Moving to your sophomore year,
One year has passed you by.
And now your path has been made clear,
The years now start to fly.

Now you're in your junior year,
It's time to order rings.
An item that you hold so dear,
Along with other things.

Finally in your senior year,
Your future lies ahead.
Graduation is drawing near,
Your high school life is dead.

Yes, the years pass rather quickly,
So enjoy them while you can.
Live each day as happily,
And as fully as you can.

For most people, a yearbook is just a large photo album. The 1974 Harvester staff has tried to change that image this year by introducing new ideas such as: the special historical section and the recording of "The Sounds of Hayfield." I could never have tackled the job as editor without the help of the following people:

Mrs. Virginia Thomason, faculty advisor and my good friend. I know she is glad it's over, but without her encouragement, nothing would've gotten done.

Mr. Neill Watson III, American Yearbook Company representative. His expert guidance and understanding helped us immeasurably.

Mr. Elmer Schulte, Mrs. A. McVey, and Michele Eastridge. Your help in the special historical section was greatly appreciated. They all gave up their free time to help.

Mrs. Isabella Windham for her assistance at the beginning of the year. One month of this madness was enough for you, right!

MacIntyre Studios for our senior and faculty portraits.

Mrs. Kintz and the intermediate yearbook staff. You took a lot of work off our hands—Thanks!

Howard and Ruth Marler, without their candids we would never have met our deadlines.

Delmar Studios for our underclassmen's portraits.

Mr. Herbert Lelansky whom we can always depend on to take pictures at deadline time (or past!). Thank you for always being there.

Omega Recording Company and everyone involved in the record, especially "Big Don O'Bryan" alias Don Fineran.

A special thanks to Alice Nelson and Ed Metzger, our 24 hour a day photographers.

Also to Vicki Robbins, a big thank you for your work on the game in the student life section.

And last but not least, the '74 Harvester staff. Without them there would be no yearbook. For a new staff they did an outstanding job. Good luck with next year's book!

With thanks to all these helpful people, and best wishes to the sponsor and staff of 1975—
